Miss Ellie Jones:

Jake was very proactive in alerting the teaching staff when he needed assistance in going to the bathroom today. Great job Jake!

Jake's Mum:

So happy that Jake has started to have accident free days.

What Did I Learn?

Miss Ellie Jones:

Jake has a wonderful day getting in touch with his creative side today. He really enjoyed painting for the first time, and held his brush amazingly well. He quickly learned about controlling the brush, and the how mixing primary colours can create new colours.

Ninja

Miss Ellie Jones:

Jake was adventurous today in his outdoor play. His confidence in himself grew, and resulted in Jake starting to climb over the play equipment.

What Did I Learn?

Miss Ellie Jones:

Jake's self belief is starting to grow, allowing him to start performing actions that he would not try before. It is wonderful to see him develop in his play.

How's my day?

Miss Ellie Jones:

Jake had a fantastic start to the day, but was feeling a little unwell towards the end of the day.

Not Feeling Well

What Did I Learn?

Miss Ellie Jones:

Jake started to feel a little under the weather just before nap time today. He had a longer sleep than normal, and woke up very slowly. For much of the afternoon he spent playing indoors.

How's my day?

Miss Ellie Jones:
Jake had a great day, but was a little lethargic.

Sleepy

What Did I Learn?

Student Jake Stojanovski:
I wish I could eat eggs for breakfast everyday.

Miss Ellie Jones:
Jake openly expressed his feelings in his interactions with others today at our special breakfast outing. He also initiated conversations with trusted educators about the eggs he was eating, and asked for help to clean up his hands, which were covered in egg. Jake is really starting to become more comfortable in the kinder environment, and is developing into a really lovely young man.
